Rethink the activities of our schoolyard

Team and Coordination

We are an international team of women architects from Spain, Greece and Cyprus with different experiences in various places in the world. Our paths crossed in Barcelona where we shared our interest in participatory projects for urban development and social inclusion.

Julia Goula, Dafne Saldaña y Helena Cardona are part of Equal Saree founded in 2010. Equal Saree is a collective of Barcelona that applies the feminist perspective in architecture and urbanism. Among other projects, Equal Saree has developed a methodology of analysis and intervention with a gender perspective in schoolyards on which this game is based.

Konstantina Chrysostomou, Eva Grigoriadou and Georgia Manousogiannaki studied together in Crete, Greece, and then did their master's studies in Barcelona. Konstantina continues to work on inclusive urban strategies and participatory processes in Barcelona, while Eva and Georgia returned to Athens where they are working on educational and social programs.

Promoting cooperation and inclusive values since childhood will allow us to achieve, in the long term, a more equal and just society.

1 THE GAME

What is it about?

The game is an educational and ludic tool for the kids to explore the schoolyard from a new perspective and to help in the first steps of transforming it. Its role is to generate a space for debate where children can choose what kind of activities they want to do in the yard and where they want to do them. The objective is to firstly make a diagnosis of the schoolyard and then the transformation proposals.

For whom?

The game is addressed to primary schools that want to work on inclusive values and gender perspective, in groups of 5 to 25 persons.

!Print his booklet in single sided printing

How to play?

-Print the 15 stencils.

-Divide into 5 groups of 4 to 5 people each. Each group starts by choosing one of the 5 categories and collectively decides where they want to make the stencil. New activities can be added, you just have to draw and cut them like the rest of the stencils.

-Then the group goes to the chosen places and draws, with the help of the stencils, the corresponding activities.

-Once every group is done, groups change categories and repeat the same action.

-When every group is done with the five categories, they should share with their classmates why they chose firstly the activity and then the location.

Enjoy!
